Dr. Cather said there are some changes with the budget and the assessment cycle. Dr. Teske will email the assessment timeline but is still determining if she has the latest version as of April 14, 2022.

Dr. Cather presented the budget cycle. Findings should be added to the FY23 CQI forms. Final recommendations should be submitted for FY24 based on preliminary budget requests submitted in February. In August, the new CQI is completed using the May findings and budget projections.

Mike will use the summer months to review core competency data and write the 2023 SAA Annual Monitoring Report.

The 2023 Assessment Day is scheduled for September 5.

Dr. Teske stated that academic chairs, student affairs, and administrative coordinators need to be doing the walk-through in September to meet with Deans and Directors in October. Dr. Teske's advice is to have faculty have FY23 completed so that assessment day is about reviewing the CQI and having time to work on FY24 CQI and FY25 Budget Requests.

Craig Bradley suggested outlining the expectations of what will occur during the assessment day. Dr. Teske suggested having faculty have conversations about FY23 findings and looking ahead to planning budget requests for FY25.

Craig asked what we do if we need budget modifications. Dr. Cather suggested letting her know as soon as possible.
